

Lone Cone Library District

Internet and Wi-Fi Usage Policy

The Lone Cone Library District (LCLD) provides public access to the internet in keeping with its role of providing access to informational and popular interest resources. LCLD provides free, equitable, and organized public access to internet resources. This access honors the fundamental Library District principle of intellectual freedom, an abiding respect for the dignity and privacy of individual inquiry. This policy applies to adults and minors.

LCLD staff will work in partnership with parents and guardians to help supervise minors in the safe use of the internet in compliance with Federal and State laws. Because we cannot control all aspects of this vast resource, we urge parents to continually participate in their child's learning process by helping them make good choices in selecting appropriate materials and websites.

Disclaimer

In total, LCLD has no control over information accessed through the internet and cannot be held responsible for its content. Much of the information on the internet is timely, useful, and/or entertaining. Some of it is dated, erroneous, offensive, or illegal. Patrons should cast a cautious and critical eye on any and all data they discover. The job of LCLD is access, not endorsement.

Filtering of Library District Computers

In 2000, Congress passed the Child Internet Protection Act (CIPA) (Pub. L. No. 106-554), which requires libraries receiving certain types of federal funding to install technology protection measures that block images ("visual depictions") that are obscene, contain child pornography, or are harmful to minors; except that no technology protection measure may block scientific or medically accurate information regarding sexual assault, sexual abuse, incest, sexually transmitted disease, or reproduction health. In 2004, the Colorado legislature passed a similar law (HB 04-1004 Internet Protection in Public Libraries, C.R.S. 24-90-601-606) mandating protective measures in all library district public computers. Therefore, LCLD computers have filters that comply with state and federal laws.

Filters may falsely block constitutionally protected speech, or they may fail to block access to illegal or objectionable material. LCLD utilizes commercial filtering software to block access to obscene and sexually explicit materials. Keep in mind, however, no filtering software is 100% accurate.

Internet Policy

- Library patrons use the internet at their own risk. It may contain controversial material that some may find offensive.
- The library does not monitor and has no control over the information on the internet and cannot be held responsible for its content.
- Users should be aware that the internet is not a secure medium and that third parties may be able to obtain information regarding the user's activities. The library is not responsible for any loss or damage incurred by a user of the library's computer or telecommunications equipment.
- LCLD does not record information on the use of internet computers or specific websites accessed by members of the public.

Wi-Fi Policy

- LCLD provides free wireless internet access inside and outside the building between the hours of 7:00 am and 10:00 pm daily. Contact library staff for the current password.
- Like many public wireless connections, information is not encrypted and is subject to electronic eavesdropping. Wireless users are responsible for providing security for their own equipment and electronic communications.
- By using the wireless network, you are agreeing to comply with the library's policies concerning use of the internet.
- The library exercises no control over and will not be held responsible for user-supplied equipment or internet content that users choose to access or create using personal equipment.
- While the library strives to provide a quality wireless system, it cannot guarantee the signal quality, bandwidth availability, or general internet site availability at any time.
- Wi-Fi is filtered in accordance with State and Federal law.

Terms and Conditions

By using the internet service provided by LCLD, patrons hereby expressly acknowledge and agree that there are significant security, privacy and confidentiality risks inherent in accessing or transmitting information through the internet, whether the connection is facilitated through wired or wireless technology. Security issues include, without limitation; interception of transmissions, loss of data, and the introduction of viruses and other programs that can corrupt or damage a computer.

Accordingly, patrons agree that LCLD is NOT liable for any interception or transmissions, computer worms or viruses, loss of data, file corruption, hacking or damage to a computer or other devices that result from the transmission or download of information or materials through the internet service provided.

Use of the wireless network is subject to the general restrictions outlined as follows. If abnormal, illegal, or unauthorized behavior is detected, including heavy consumption of bandwidth, LCLD reserves the right to permanently disconnect the offending device from the wireless network.

The District provides Wi-Fi outside of the building for use on library grounds. This service is not intended to take the place of in-home internet service. Devices that appear to be used in the home, such as TVs, Roku, PlayStations etc., will be blocked from accessing the network.
